PHILADELPHIA PRO-FOOTBALL GREATS

(1988 PRO-FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME 25TH ANNIVERSARY SERIES)

Complete Set (144 cards) $16.00 ppd.

This limited edition series, printed on a standard-size 2½"x3½" trading card, includes the four new players inducted in 1988 (Fred Biletnikoff, Mike Ditka, Jack Ham, and Alan Page) for a complete total of all 144 HALL OF FAMERS. This set is manufactured by the company which formerly produced the Philadelphia chewing gum football cards of the 1960's.

Card backs are in two colors and include the player's life-time professional history, the college attended, and the year the player was inducted into the PRO-FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME. Included in the set are greats such as Jim Brown, Simpson, Namath, Unitas, Gifford, Nitschke, Olsen, Jim Taylor, Thorpe, Hornung, Sayers, Tarkenton, Starr, Lombardi, Baugh and Butkus.

NEGRO LEAGUE BASEBALL STARS

Available now a set of the great stars of the Negro Leagues. For the first time ever a set of cards on the Negro League using actual photographs.

From 1898 until 1946, black men were barred from organized baseball by a "gentleman's agreement". For nearly half a century, some of the nation's greatest baseball players performed in the relative obscurity of the Negro Leagues. The set of 119 cards includes Satchell Paige, Josh Gibson, Cool Papa Bell, Buck Leonard, Monte Irvin, Judy Johnson, Lou Dials, and more. Also shown are many historic Negro League uniforms including the Kansas City Monarchs, Homestead Grays, Pittsburgh Crawfords and more.

Complete Set of Negro League (119 cards) ..... $10.75 ppd.
2 Complete Sets (238 cards) ..... 19.75 ppd.

Conlon Smithsonian Sets

Each Limited Edition Conlon Smithsonian set features 60 different stars from long ago. The sepia color cards are on the traditional 2½" x 3½" board. Sets feature stars such as Ruth, Gehrig, Cobb, Hornsby, Dean and many other stars of that era from the famous collection of Charles Conlon. Statistics and information on the backs is done by well-known Sporting News historian Paul McFailane. Here's your chance to own a piece of baseball history and some of the players who helped make the game what it is today.

Premier Edition (60 cards) $22.50 ppd
2nd Series (60 cards) 17.50 ppd

BASEBALL IMMORTALS

Now All 199 Inductees Included

Now for the first time ever, a complete set of 196 cards in full color. The set, intitled, "BASEBALL IMMORTALS" features each and every member of Baseballs Hall of Fame including the 1987 inductees. The cards are extremely eye appealing with multi-colored borders: green, yellow, purple, blue, red, orange, etc. (similar to the 1975 Topps set). The banner indicates the year of induction to the Hall of Fame, with the pennant and inner border in a very vibrant metallic gold. The back is multi colored with biographies and statistics giving pertinent information about the Baseball Immortals.

The most unique feature of this incredible set is the varnish that was applied to each card that protects the card and gives it the glossy look and feel.

Advertisements placed in this magazine sometimes contain inadvertent typographical errors, a fact readers should bear in mind when they encounter prices quoted at a small fraction of the prevailing retail price. Prices in all advertisements are subject to change without notice. Advertisers endeavor to fill all orders received, but market fluctuations which cause actual prices to vary greatly may, at times, prevent the fulfillment of some orders. In the event of a return, the seller may request that the entire order be returned for a refund rather than just a portion.

RARE

Topps TIFFANY SINGLES

(All Mint)

Topps Tiffany sets are one of the rarest of the modern collectibles, the amount of sets produced compared to regular Topps Baseball cards is remarkably low. Very seldom do you see these cards offered as singles, so this is a great chance to obtain a very scarce card of your favorite player. These will also prove to be a solid investment in the coming years.

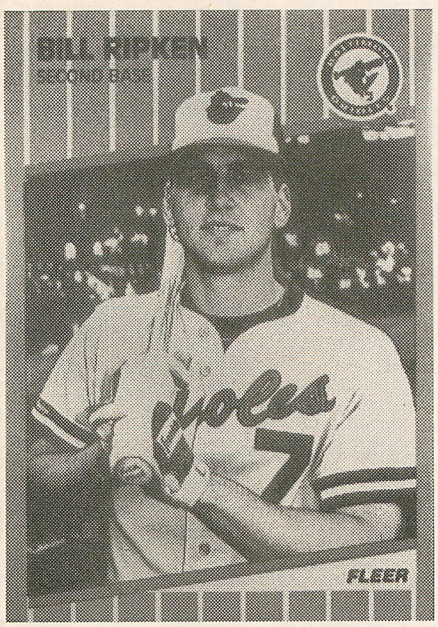
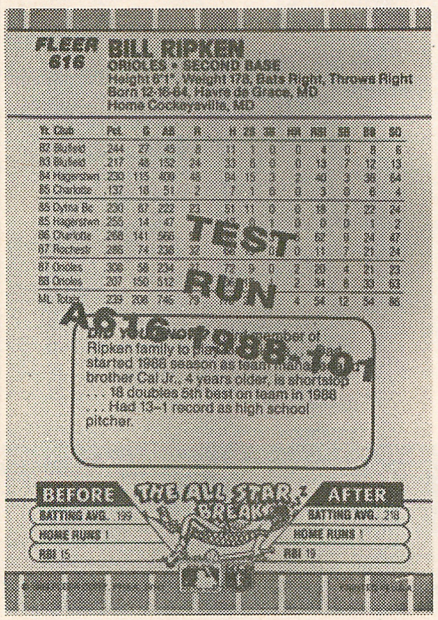
Ripken rip-off

Lately I've been seeing an item at flea markets and even a few card shows which I think your readers should be warned of.





It purports to be a "test card" of the now-infamous 1989 Fleer Billy Ripken card #616.

The card is printed on thin cardboard with a rather glossy finish on the front. It is entirely in black and white, front and back.

The front reproduces the vulgar version of the Ripken card, complete with the dirty name on the bat. The back is a reproduction of the regular card back, but has overprinted: "TEST RUN A616-1988-101."

This "card" is a total rip-off, and has never seen the inside of the Fleer printing facility.

Marc Moyer
Rio del Guano, Tex.

(Editor's note: You're right, the "test" card is totally bogus. Several readers have sent samples from different parts of the country, indicating they are widespread. It's a shame that certain greedy people couldn't make enough profit selling a card with a dirty name on it for obscene amounts; they had to fake it, too.

(Readers should be aware that virtually every black and white card produced after about 1983, whether purporting to be a regular or a test issue, is a fake, fraud and/or fantasy. Such items do not now, and never will, have any collector value.)

Fraud or greed?

This isn't at all unusual, but it sure is frustrating. I just received and opened my August, 1989, issue of PGM. I immediately placed two calls to order cards from advertisers.

One advertiser was offering 1989 Bowman wax boxes in his ad at $16.95. When I called, however, the price had been raised to $29.95 — an increase of only $13 a box above the advertised price. The 1989 Bowman wax cases that they advertised at $299.95 were all gone. Their excuse? The ad was for a month ago, even though I read the ad placed in front of me for the first time that morning. Come on now!

A second ad offered factory sets of Upper Deck for $39.95. When I called, the price was $49.95 — an increase of only $10 a set.

They know their costs when they send their ads to be printed, and they also know the approximate time those ads will be read by the public.

Stan Novak
Cassville, Mo.

(Editor's note: How about another possibility? c) usually honest advertisers who are caught in a fast moving card market?

(You now hold in your hands the October-dated issue of PGM. You may have received the issue shortly after its official Aug. 22 on-sale date, or you may have bought it on the local newsstand closer to its Sept. 25 off-sale date.

(The ads for that issue, however, had to be in our hands on July 11. In today's market, a lot can happen to the supply of, and demand for, current cards in 30 or 60 days. If an advertiser is selling the same items he had in his September ad, and the price was good or has moved up since that ad was published, he may have sold out his entire stock at that price and been forced to go into the wholesale market for replacement inventory. In such cases, he likely had to pay more for his merchandise, and so must charge more.

(We recognize that possibility and print a notice to that effect on Page 4 of every issue.

(We also recognize that there are greedy people in this business who will simply grab every last dime on a card or set that has risen in value, regardless of his cost. If you can tell us how to know which of our advertisers are merely caught in the middle of rapidly fluctuating prices, and which are gouging the readers, we'd be glad to hear it. Until then, we'll trust the integrity of our advertisers.

(As always, if you feel you have been treated unfairly by an advertiser in these pages, address your complaint — in writing only — to Luella Johnson, Customer Service Dept., BBCPGM, 700 E. State St., Iola, WI 54990.)

Card shop competition

Enclosed is my check for a year's subscription. I used to buy your magazine at a local card shops, but he quit carrying it. He said he didn't want to compete with your advertisers.

I think the real reason is that he always prices his newer cards a lot higher than your price guide indicates is the current market.

NEW! THE SCOREBOARD BOOK OF BASEBALL CARDS

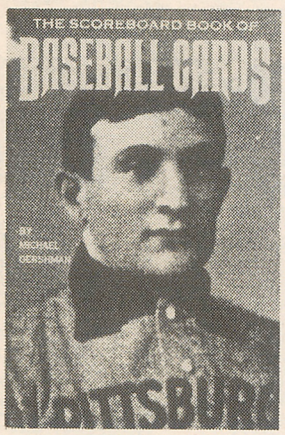
By Michael Gershman



If you're going to buy only one book on the hobby of baseball cards, this is the one to buy. It could save you a year's worth of periodical reading and all the uncertainty of "reading between the lines." In a fast reading sixty-four pages, Michael Gershman manages to capture it all:

- A full chapter on the business of baseball cards; who makes money from cards and how they make money
- A full history of the hobby, with many descriptions of different sets and an explanation of why they become important and valuable. Understand the history of the hobby and you may make better choices on what you seek out and save for future investment.
- Ever get confused over the term "Near Mint" vs "Mint"? The difference can cost you a bundle. Michael Gershman's "Condition Chart" should eliminate the confusion forever!
- If you don't know the seven different types of retail outlets available to collectors, you should read this book to finish your education. You could be paying too much for the cards you are seeking!

Readers are invited to submit questions having to do with the baseball memorabilia hobby. BCPGM is hesitant to quote values and will, in most instances, advise you of reference books that contain pricing. When asking BCPGM to identify cards or other memorabilia, it is wise to send a photo or a clear photocopy of the item. If you include the actual card, please include a self-addressed stamped envelope for its return. Personal replies cannot be given. Send questions to: Q & A Page, Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly, 700 E. State St., Iola, WI 54990.

Q: I have some 1970-1972 issues of "The Sporting News." Some of the covers include Roberto Clemente, Willie Mays, Pete Rose and Reggie Jackson. Could you tell me or refer me somewhere to find out if these are valuable?

A: There is no price guide for baseball periodicals. Because of their size, and the fact they are printed on newsprint which yellows with age, old issues of TSN are not in great demand by collectors. You might find a superstar collector who has bee desperately seeking a particular cover, and would pay $10 or more for it, but a typical price is closer to $3-5 for that era.

Q: I recently bought a 1986 N.Y. Mets yearbook. Will it be worth anything in a couple of years?

A: Certainly. But probably not a great deal more than you paid for it. Modern yearbooks are produced — and more importantly, saved — in tremendous numbers. Large dealers are able to buy hundreds or thousands of books from some teams at year-end for a fraction of cover price. It is unlikely most recent yearbooks will see great value appreciation.

Q: The 1975 Topps card #191 is a 1953 MVPs with Roy Campanella and Al Rosen. Is this the same person as the hobby's #1 buyer?

A: No. It's the same person as the current president and general manager of the San Francsico Giants.

Q: I have a child's uniform and jacket of the Milwaukee Braves dating back to the early 1960s. Do these items have any collector value? If so, where can I find out how much?

A: Virtually every souvenir item that was issued for a baseball team — especially a defunct baseball team — prior to the 1980s has collector value. Unfortunately, there is no price guide to give you a quick answer on value. You'd have to offer the items via a mail auction or shop them around to a number of dealers and collectors at a show to get an idea of their worth. We'd estimate that if the items are in decent condition they might bring $25 or $50 each.

Q: A fellow collector was showing me a set of old cards he just picked up. They are supposed to be cards from 1947 issued by the Bond Bread Co. The problem is, I looked up the cards in a price guide and the only Bond Bread cards I could find had Jackie Robinson on the entire set and stats on the back. My friend's cards are blank on the back. Some are cut wrong and they are just too perfect to be 42-year-old cards. Are these cards real? I hope so; he paid an arm and a leg for them.

A: The cards are real. They are Homoginzed Bond Bread cards of 1947. A large hoard of 24 of the 48 cards issued in that set in 1947 was found some years ago. A major promotion was recently run in national media offering the cards at a high, though fair, price.

Q: I have a 1982 Topps card #381 which says Dave Schmidt is a catcher. I have another card of Dave Schmidt (Donruss Diamond Kings #13) which says he is a pitcher? Is that an error?

A: No, it's a different Dave Schmidt.

Q: My 1986 Fleer Update Angel Salazar card says he was born in El Tigre, Venezuela. His 1988 Topps card says he was born in Anaco-Anzoategui, Venezulea. Which is the mistake?

A: The Fleer card, according to the "Baseball Encyclopedia."

Q: The back of Gene Garber's 1988 Score card (#565) has stats that indicate he played in 1973-74 with the Athletics. He didn't play for Oakland those years, he played for the Kansas City Royals. Was that error corrected?

Q: I recently bought a 1982 Glacier Pilots Mark McGwire card. It has a black and white photo with blue borders and white letters. How scarce is it? What is its present and future value?

A: The card was actually not produced until 1986 or 1987, as part of that year's set for this Alaska amateur league team. Most collectors don't consider it a legitimate collectible because it was issued years after McGwire played there. It will have little future value.

Q: The 1976 Topps Willie Stargell card says he was born in 1940. The 1982 Donruss says 1941. Which is correct?

A: Stargell was born March 6, 1941.

Q: Were any Mattingly, Strawberry or McGwire cards ever in the BCPGM "Hot Corner"?

A: Nope.

Q: I have a 1982 Topps card of Al Oliver, but the back is blank and the front says: "NL - .331 batting average." Is it rare?

A: No. It's from a league leaders sheet that Topps gave out as part of a contest. Tons were also sold to dealers. The entire 8-card sheet can be found at shows for $2 or so.

Q: The 1988 Topps Traded card of Mark Grace says he's a 24th round draft choice. The 1988 Donruss card says he was drafted in the 25th round. Which is correct?

A: Nobody knows for sure. The teams don't release the order of their selections that low in the draft. Does it really matter?

Q: On the 1986 Topps record breaker card of Tony Perez, it states the last record was set 8-1-94. Is that an error or was the date Aug. 1, 1894?

A: It was Aug. 1, 1894 when Cap Anson became the older man to hit a grand slam prior to Perez' 1985 salami a day before he turned 43.

Q: Do you know anything about the 1982 Topps All-Star cards of Rod Carew (#547), Carlton Fisk (?54) and Jack Morris (#556)? I have some of each that have the player's name on front and some without the player's name. All the dealers I ask have not seen any.

A: You have some of the infamous "blackless" error cards. Quite a number of 1982 Topps cards were printed without any black ink, leaving the name blank, but the rest of the card looking fairly normal. At one time dealers were asking as much as $100 apiece for the cards. Since they are merely printing mistakes, rather than design variations, they have a value that is much closer to $1 than $100.

Q: Why is the 1955 Topps Double Header issue not included in your magazine? This was a formal issue by Topps.

A: There's lots of formal Topps issues we don't include in our monthly price guide. We discriminate on the basis of collector popularity and the frequency of price movement. The Double Headers seem to be adequately covered in the annual "SCD Baseball Card Price Guide."

Sherry Magee (portrait) Nr. Mt/-Mint.....$155.00
John McGraw (glove-at-hip) Ex/Mint. Sovereign back..$95.00
Miller Huggins (portrait) Nr. Mint.....$195.00
Joe Tinker (Hands-on-knees) Excellent/Mint.....$155.00
Johnny Evers (portrait) Excellent/Mint.....$155.00
Harry Steinfeldt (portrait). Nr. Mt/Mint.....$145.00
Hal Chase (rare pink background) Nr. Mint.....$195.00
Hal Chase (throwing, dark cap). Nr. Mt/Mint.....$155.00
Hal Chase (blue, portrait). Nr. Mt/Mint.....$155.00
Clark Griffith (portrait design). Excellent/Mint.....$145.00

Christy Mathewson (dark cap). Nr. Mt/Mint. White borders, vivid blue and green colors. Mathewson cards are rare in this condition. Excellent value.....$495.00

Ty Cobb. (Bat-on-shoulder). Nr. Mt/Mint. 2nd rarest of the Cobb cards. The best we've owned: perfectly centered, pure white borders, perfect photo, deep yellow and green colors, sharp corners. Cobb cards in this condition have disappeared in the market, and consequently they are exploding in value. One of the premier cards in the hobby and an excellent bet for the future.....$3,450.00

Rare Tharp Ice Cream Cards

(R-312 designation) Circa 1928. Tobacco Card Size. Reverse offers redemption for a Babe Ruth photograph.

Lou Gehrig. Excellent condition. Light wear on the corners, white borders, no browning and a sharp, clear photo. Infinitely rarer than any Goudey Gehrig card. Few Gehrig collections contain this one. Extremely rare and undervalued. Not to be missed.....$950.00

Ty Cobb. Excellent condition. Like the Gehrig above, extremely difficult to find in any grade. An avid collector could look for years and not find these cards. Excellent photo, no detracting marks with slight wear on the corners. White borders, no browning. For the Ty Cobb collector.....$950.00

Note: We also have in stock Tharp cards of Hack Wilson, Bill Terry, Herb Pennock and other stars. Call for prices and details. These cards will not surface again — they are truly scarce.....

1934-1936 Diamond Stars

Carl Hubbell. Nr. Mint.....$195.00
Pie Traynor. Nr. Mt/Mint.$195.00

PRICING AND CONDITION GUIDE

BASEBALL CARD GRADING GUIDE

Mint (MT): A perfect card. Well-centered, with equal borders. Four sharp, square corners. No creases, edge dents, surface scratches, paper flaws, loss of luster, yellowing or fading, regardless of age. No imperfectly printed cards — out of register, badly cut or ink-flawed — or cards stained by contact with gum, wax or other substances can be considered truly Mint, even if new out of the pack.

Near Mint (NR MT): A nearly perfect card. At first glance, a Near Mint card appears perfect; upon closer examination, however, a minor flaw will be discovered. On well-centered cards, three of the four corners must be perfectly sharp. A slightly off-center card would also fit this grade.

Excellent (EX): Corners are still fairly sharp, with only moderate wear. Card borders may be off center. No creases. No gum, wax or product stains, front or back. Surfaces may show some loss of luster.

Very Good (VG): Shows obvious handling. Corners rounded and/or perhaps showing minor creases. Other minor creases may be visible. Surfaces may exhibit loss of luster, but all printing is intact. May show gum, wax or other packaging stains. No major creases, tape marks or extraneous markings or writing. Exhibits honest wear.

Good (G): A well-worn card with no intentional damage or abuse. May have major or multiple creases. Corners rounded well beyond the border.

Fair (F): Shows excessive wear, along with damage or abuse, such as thumb tack holes in or near margins, evidence of having been taped or pasted, perhaps small tears around the edges, or creases so heavy as to break the cardboard. Backs may show minor added writing, or be missing small bits of paper. Still, a basically complete card.

Poor : A card that has been tortured to death. Corners or other areas may be torn off. Card may have been trimmed, show holes from paper punch or have been used for BB gun practice. Front may have extraneous pen or pencil writing, or other defacement. Major portions of front or back design may be missing. Not a pretty sight.

In addition to these seven widely-used grading terms, collectors will often encounter intermediate grades, such as VG-EX (Very Good to Excellent), EX-MT (Excellent to Mint), or NR MT-MT (Near Mint to Mint). Persons who describe a card with such grades are usually trying to convery that the card has all the characteristics of the lower grade, with enough of those of the higher grade to merit mention. Such cards are usually priced at a point midway between the two grades.

BUYING AND SELLING

The Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly is designed for both the beginning and advanced collector. It lists values for cards in two conditions (see Grading Guide). It should be noted that all values listed are retail prices — the amount a dealer would sell the card for. Buy prices — the price a dealer would pay for a card — are less, ranging from about one-tenth the price listed for recent common cards to perhaps one-half or more for high value cards.

DEFINITIONS

After considerable study of the preferences of average collectors, we have taken a stand on the definition of a "rookie card." Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly recognizes a player's rookie card as his first appearance in a regularly-issued, nationally-distributed (Topps, Fleer, Donruss, Score) set. A card from a "Traded," "Update," or "Rookies" set is not a true rookie card, by this definition, because it was never available to the general public.

Because of the several nationally-distributed baseball card sets produced each year since 1981, it is possible for a player to have as many as three (1981-1987) or four (1988) rookie cards. Rookie cards from 1948-1988 are indicated in these listings by italic type.

You will find many cards from 1981 on with the designation "(FC)." This reveals a new player's first card by a particular card company. There will be many (FC)'s in the Traded, Update, and Rookies sets because that is where numerous players make their first card appearances.

OTHER GRADES

The values quoted in Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly for cards issued between 1948-1980 are to be understood as the guide price for a card or set in Near Mint (NR MT) condition. In today's market this has become the most popular grade for investment quality cards, as well as the highest feasible condition in which complete sets of older cards can be built.

To figure values for cards in other grades, use the following percentages of the quoted values: 1948-1980 Cards: Mint (MT) — 125-175%; Very Good (VG) — 30%; Good (G) — 15%; Fair — 7%. 1981-1988 Cards: Excellent (EX) — 20-40%. There is no current market value for cards issued from 1981 to 1988 in less than EX condition.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

All prices appearing in Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly are intended only to serve as an aid in evaluating your cards. They are not a solicitation to buy or sell on the part of the publisher or any other party.

Remember, regional interest and other factors may cause the value of a card to vary from one part of the country to another.

As always, your comments and suggestions are welcome. Address them to: Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly, 700 E. State St., Iola, WI 54990.

COMMENTARY

By now you've probably already noticed our hot new feature: "Pocket Price Guides."

Each month we'll be inserting five Pocket Price Guide cards into your issue of Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly. The Pocket Price Guide cards will combine the classic styling of the 1964 Topps cards with today's hottest stars and rookies.

Backs of the cards will present "Inside Information," our experts' opinions on the collectiblity and investment potential of that player's cards, along with a selection of (hopefully) up-to-date price guide data.

It's important to remember, however, that since the cards have to be printed almost a month before the magazine, there will be times when the prices quoted on our Pocket Price Guide cards will be different from those quoted in the issue of the magazine in which they appear. Sometimes the baseball card marker moves just that fast.

Please — such a difference does not make our Pocket Price Guide cards "errors," and there will not be "corrected" versions issued, so don't write to us about that topic. In fact, you can make the blanket assumption that if (or maybe we should say "when") an error does occur on one of the Pocket Price Guide cards, it will not ever be corrected.

The Pocket Price Guide cards are intended to be a colorful addenda to the price guide information we present throughout each and every issue of BBCPGM. We hope you enjoy them, and welcome your comments about our cards and the advice they give.

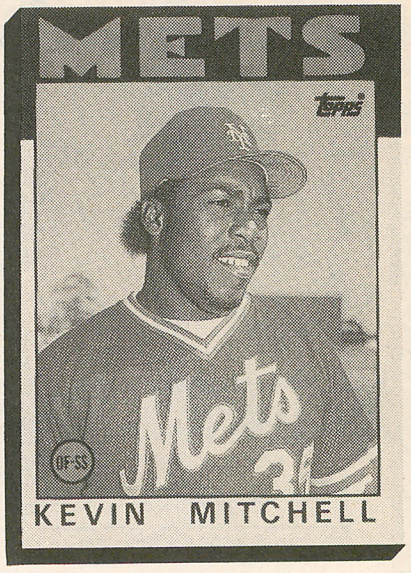
To accommodate the Pocket Price Guides, we are discontinuing the Poster Price Guide feature which ran in each issue from Nov., 1988, through Sept., 1989. We realize the posters were a popular feature, and will understand if you miss them.

In case you missed a few of our posters, here's the complete checklist:

11/88 Greg Maddux, 12/88 Darryl Strawberry, 1/89 Will Clark, 2/89 Chris Sabo-Mark Grace, 3/89 Jose Canseco, 4/89 Kirk Gibson, 5/89 Strawberry-Andre Dawson, 6/89 Orel Hershiser, 7/89 Don Mattingly, 8/89 George Brett, 9/89 Jim Abbott.

Sorry, we don't stock back issues of the magazine. If you want to find old copies, check around at card shops and card shows.

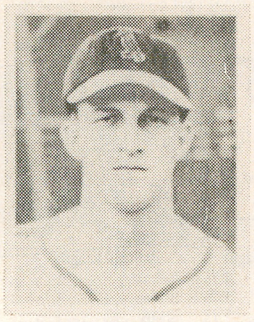
HOT CARD CORNER



#74T — 1986 Topps Traded
MT Value — $4.50

This card is so hot we can barely keep current on it. You'll note that the back of our Kevin Mitchell "Pocket Price Guide" card quotes the value of the '88TT at $1.50. That price was right on when the card was printed, but not today.

1948 Bowman



This 48-card set includes 12 cards (#'s 7, 8, 13, 16, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 29, 30 and 34) which were short-printed. Cards measure 2-1/16" by 2-1/2" with black and white photos.

1953 Bowman Black and White

The Bowman B&W set followed the Color set in 1953, purportedly due to high costs in producing the color series. Sixty-four cards, which measure 2½" by 3¾", comprise the set.

Here's Series 1 of an exclusive set of "Pocket Price Guide" cards designed to keep you up to the minute on card prices and value trends. Be sure to get the November and December issues of SCD Baseball Card Price Guide Monthly to complete your set. Then watch for a completely new set beginning in the January, 1990, issue.

1. MARK DAVID McGWIRE

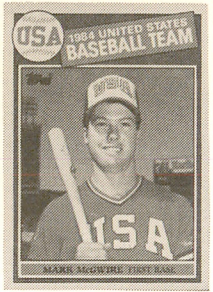
Oakland Athletics — 1st base

Born: Oct. 1, 1963 — Pomona, Calif.

6'5" 215 lbs. — Bats: R Throws: R

INSIDE INFORMATION

McGwire will be gratefully remembered by a generation of collectors as the man who made the 1985 Topps Olympic player cards the most sought-after subset in recent years. (Remember mid-1985, when the Olympic subset sold for $1 because they weren't "real" ballplayers?) Since Big Mac's record-breaking rookie season in 1987, when he hit 49 home runs, collectors have been arguing about whether his '85 Topps card is a "real" rookie card. The price guides say it isn't — but the price tag says it is. Either way, his '87 Topps card is a better buy because it has lots of room for upward price movement; the '85 doesn't.



1985 Topps Olympic $15.00

2. VINCENT EDWARD JACKSON

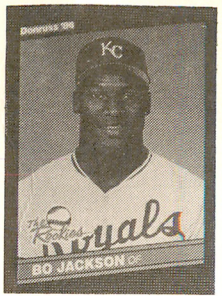
Kansas City Royals — outfield

Born: Nov. 30, 1962 — Bessemer, Ala.

6'1" 220 lbs. — Bats: R Throws: R

INSIDE INFORMATION

Those who bought Bo's cards in the '86 update sets, or his '87 rookie cards prior to the start of this season will be forgiven if they sell now at a big profit and wave a fistful of dollars under the noses of those who under-estimated both the raw physical skills and the enormous will to succeed of this awesome athlete. Better yet, keep the cards and wave the Price Guide Monthly under the critics' noses, because those cards are going to continue to increase in value. When Bo gives up football (Another year? Two?) to focus on baseball, he will add years to his career, allowing him to pile up Hall of Fame numbers.



1986 Donruss Rookies $3.50

WANT LIST FILLED, WANTED TO BUY OR TRADE

1. We will quote prices on your favorite player from food issues and other odd sets as well as regular issues. You must send SASE with your list.
2. We will purchase NR Mint to Mint sets or high grade singles, lots and complete collections. We mainly need cards from 1900 to 1975 Topps Mini's.
3. We will make trades for items you want on this page, however I must have a trade advantage to stay in business. Send your trade offer that I can't refuse with SASE; and I will reply.

7/11 ITEMS

From 1983 thru 1986 Seven-Eleven stores have issued many sports items and will continue to issue them. Purchase these items now while they still remain at low prices. I have a complete stock of single baseball and football coins, all years and will quote the price on singles for a S.A.S.E. I am also interested in trading for Topps 1975 Mint mini cards, Mint rookie cards, Mint sets, Mint older stars, or what have you?

1963 Fleer

A lawsuit by Topps stopped Fleer's 1963 set at one series of 66 cards. The 2½" by 3½" cards were issued with cookies. The Adcock card (#46) was pulled during the print run and replaced with an unnumbered checklist, making both cards somewhat scarce.

A.T.S. CARD COMPANY

CALL

Although we have expanded since last year, nothing has changed in the manner that we conduct business - the customer is always right and you don't have to go through any red tape to get to the boss. We are set up to handle the largest orders or the smallest by not placing a minimum dollar figure on each sale. Just remember, when you place an order with A.T.S. you are placing it with a company that always lives up to its commitments and expectations. All orders are guaranteed at the specified price.

All orders must be phoned in between the hours of 2:30 - 8:30 Monday - Sunday EST. Cards are sold in 25 card lots and there is a $2.50 S&H/order. We will start shipping out all orders one week after we receive our shipment from Topps (expected mid-March). Payment in full is required with all orders. Players in italics are first regular card rookie issues.

SOLVE THIS PUZZLE... AND WIN

*ANYONE who correctly solves the entire puzzle will win a factory sealed case of 1989 Donruss wax packs (20 boxes).

*ANYONE who has only one (1) wrong square will win a complete 1985 Topps set (792 cards - NrMT/MT).

*ANYONE who has only two (2) wrong squares will win a complete 1986 Fleer Update set (132 cards - NrMT/MT).

*ANYONE who has only three (3) wrong squares will win a copy of the December 1988 issue of Baseball Cards Magazine which includes the three "Mickey Mantle" replica-cards ($10.00 value).

CONTEST RULES

1. Solve the puzzle as you would any crossword by using the clues and the word list provided. Entries with more than one letter per square or illegible letters shall be counted as wrong for that square.

2. POSTMARK YOUR ENTRIES ON OR BEFORE THE DEADLINE SHOWN. You may submit as many entries as you wish (Xerox copies and facsimiles are acceptable), but EACH entry must be accompanied by the $1.00 processing fee. YOU MAY COMBINE ALL PROCESSING FEES INTO ONE FORM OF PAYMENT, AND ALL FEES AND ENTRIES MAY BE SENT IN ONE ENVELOPE.

3. The above prizes will be awarded to EVERY ENTRY who has three (3) or less squares wrong. All prizes will be paid by October 20, 1989. Enclose a self-addressed, STAMPED envelope to receive a list of winners and all answers and explanations to the correct solution.

4. THERE IS ONLY ONE CORRECT SOLUTION. Answers and explanations are on file with all judging firms and publishers/advertisers. The Sports Section is wholly responsible for this contest of skill, and holds harmless any publisher/advertiser who prints and/or distributes this contest. Employees of The Sports Section and/or any of its publishers/advertisers are ineligible to enter this contest or to contribute to any entry in any way.

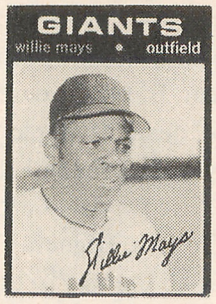
A + sign indicates the value of a card has risen since its last listing in BASEBALL CARD PRICE GUIDE MONTHLY.

A — sign indicates the price has dropped.

1971 Topps



Once again, the set size was increased, this time to 752 cards (2½" by 3½"). The black borders on the '71 Topps cards are very susceptible to chipping, making true mint cards difficult to find. Several minor variations involving checklists exist.

INVESTOR INSIDER

By Tony Galovich

This article is adapted from the June, 1989, issue of Baseball Card Investment Report, a market newletter for investment quality baseball cards published by American Card Exchange, edited by Tony Galovich. Twelve issues of BCIR are available by subscription for $29 from: American Card Exchange, 125 E. Baker, Suite 150, Costa Mesa, CA 92626.

One question that I have been asked quite a lot over the past year has been, "Do unopened wax cases belong as a part of my baseball card investment portfolio?" If you wish to further diversify your portfolio and have a little extra storage space left in the basement or garage, I would definitely consider putting away a case or two of unopened Topps wax packs.

First of all, for someone who may be new to the hobby, you might ask, "What is a wax case?" This product is produced mainly for card shops and convenience stores to be sold over the counter to collectors and the general public. Every recent (1980s) Topps case contains 20 boxes of wax packs. Each box (since 1974) contains 36 packs. Each pack is wrapped in colorful wax paper, thus the name "wax case." Most wax cases sold each year are broken up by wholesalers and retailers and sold as individual packs to collectors, but some are put away intact to await future appreciation.

Investing in wax cases has so far been like putting money in a savings account. You're pretty much assured you will make some money every year. But if the case you buy has a lot of rookies in it that make it big, you can'make a big profit as well. For example, dealers will pay about nine times more for a 1985 Topps wax case than they will pay for a 1986 Topps case. Why? Because the 1985 case is full of quality rookie cards — Gooden, Puckett, McGwire, Clemens, Hershiser, Eric Davis — while the 1986 case has rookies whose superstar status has yet to be proven — Coleman, Dykstra, Guillen, Higuera, Tettleton, Reynolds. If the year you pick develops more than its share of hot rookies, you'll smile all the way to the bank.

Cases from the 1980s are much more plentiful than those of the 1970s which are around, but are not cheap when found and usually can't be found in any quantities. If you're looking for a short-term play, buy cases from the past five years or so. If you're thinking long-term, I would buy cases a minimum of five years old or older. Cases from the 1970s are the blue chip items to get — if you can find them for sale.

Cases were probably first saved in quantity around 1979. That's when the first baseball card price guide hit the streets. Prior to that time, I doubt there were many dealers putting cases away as an investment. I know even fewer collectors were salting away these 50-pound boxes of cardboard. In the 1970s collectors didn't collect cases. Thus I feel the pre-1979 cases are very scarce and are worth acquiring.

Also remember, the collecting of unopened packs today is the strongest it's ever been, with collectors buying single packs and even complete boxes for their collections. Adding to the demand for wax packs, boxes and cases is the fact that many speculators are opening up the old packs of cards hoping to get a key rookie card. Around the hobby, this is a popular form of gambling, especially for kids who can't legally gamble. They spend $4 to buy a 1984 Topps wax pack. If they get a Mattingly rookie, they hit it big! Obviously most of the time you will not get anything approaching your investment. That's why they call it gambling.

I contacted Scott Bradshaw of La Jolla, Calif. Mr. Bradshaw has been active in the hobby since back in 1979 when the card market began it's spectacular rise. He is very active in the unopened case market and I felt his comments about this market would be worth listening to.

The first question I posed was: "Would you recommend investing in unopened cases?" His answer: "Yes!" Next I asked him what his best sellers in cases were. He responded: "Wax cases are my best sellers and then come vending cases, then rack cases followed by cello cases." He also stated he preferred wax cases over vending cases due to the fact they are more salable. This liquidity is a most important feature, I might add.

When asked about the availability of pre-1980 cases, his answer was: "Non-existent." He went on to say that 1983 and 1985 wax cases are currently readily available because of the high market value they have already attained. The 1981, 1982 and 1984 cases are around, as well, but many people are holding them in anticipation of greater profits to come.

I then asked him his best picks in wax cases. He responded with, "I like the 1987 best, then 1983 and then 1985, then any pre-1982 wax cases."

We then discussed the liquidity of wax cases when one was ready to sell. Mr. Bradshaw stated, "liquidity is excellent because they always seems to be a demand for Topps wax cases." Next I asked about buying 1989 wax cases. He stated "In spite of massive production, the demand has been very heavy."

Thus Mr. Bradshaw felt older cases are scarce and in demand. Newer cases are more available, but the demand is very heavy due to the cards of players who are active, allowing the collector to follow them daily during the baseball season.

After spending a few months investigating the wax case market I am more convinced than ever that wax cases indeed are worth including into everyone's portfolio. Again, newer cases are for the short-term play. Older cases for the long-term hold. Either way you should do fine.

Just make sure when you buy cases that they are indeed unopened. Do not buy cases that are opened, regardless of the price. Cases should not be retaped, which might be a sign of a problem. Be sure that the case has no water damage. Again, we get back to knowing your dealer. Make sure when you buy cases by mail that the dealer "double boxes" your case to make sure it gets to you in good shape. Obviously the advantage of cases is you don't have to worry about buying overgraded cards, but be cautious of the things I just mentioned. Following all these points will assure you of an easy sale when you're ready to liquidate your cases.

Here are my specific recommendations of what cases to buy. I broke them down into the five-year groups in which they were issued. The first case listed in each group is the best bet:

Group B: 1983, 1980, 1984, 1981, 1982.
Group C: 1987, 1985, 1989, 1988, 1986.

To give you a true idea of what wax cases are worth today, I've included wholesale buy prices for Topps wax cases. Obviously you will have to pay 20% or more on a retail level, but this will give you some idea of the actual cash market value of wax cases currently.

1974 Topps

All 660 cards in the '74 Topps set were issued at once, rather than by series as in the past. Several of the Padres cards can be found with a "Washington" or "San Diego" team designation. Higher-priced variations are not included in the complete set price. Cards measure 2½" by 3½".

1980 Topps

The '80 Topps set is comprised of 726 cards that measure 2½" by 3½". Sixty-six of the cards were double-printed, yet that seems to have had no serious impact on their prices.

BASEBALL CARD PRICE GUIDE MONTHLY lists cards in two grades for 1948-1980 issues — Near Mint and Excellent. To determine the value of a card in true Mint condition, add 40-60% to the Near Mint value. It is suggested you use the high end of that range for older, scarcer issues and the lower end of the range for more recent cards. The value of a Very Good card is about 20-30% of the Near Mint value. Please see the grading guide at the front of this publication for descriptions of the various grades.

1981 Topps

The '81 Topps set is made up of 726 cards that measure 2½" by 3½" in size. Sixty-six of the cards were double-printed, yet that seems to have had no serious impact in their prices.

A + sign indicates the value of a card has risen since its last listing in BASEBALL CARD PRICE GUIDE MONTHLY.

A — sign indicates the price has dropped.

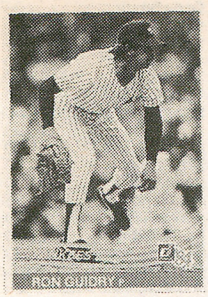
1984 Donruss



A limited print run has caused this 660-card set to escalate in price. Issued with Duke Snider puzzle pieces, the cards measure 2½" by 3½". Card #'s 1-26 are Diamond Kings and #'s 27-46 are a special "Rated Rookies" subset. Nearly 30 variations can be found in the set. Two cards, designated A and B, were issued only in wax packs.

BASEBALL CARD PRICE GUIDE MONTHLY recognizes as "rookie cards" only those cards which appeared in a nationally-distributed major set that was made available to the general public. We do not consider a card from a "Traded", "Update" or "Rookies" set to be a true rookie card, since the set was sold only through hobby dealers. Names in italic type indicate a rookie card. The letters (FC) after a card indicate a player's first card for that particular company.

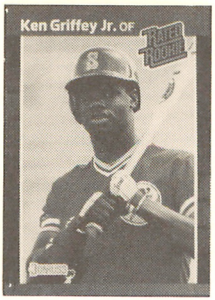
3. GEORGE KENNETH GRIFFEY, JR.

Seattle Mariners — outfield
Born: Nov. 21, 1969 — Charleroi, Pa.
6'3" 195 lbs. — Bats: L Throws: L

INSIDE INFORMATION

Projected to spend the 1989 season in the minor leagues, Griffey's preferment to the Mariners' centerfield job on Opening Day caused an instant upsurge in the price of his rookie cards. Erratic offensive performance — some weeks awesome, some weeks awful — have kept prices relatively steady for most of the year. Currently demand is strongest for Griffey Jr.'s 1989 Upper Deck card, though in the long run, Fleer's more consistent track record may make that card a better buy at current prices. Most experts agree his on-field performance can only get better in coming years, so his cards aren't likely to get any cheaper.



1989 Donruss rookie $3.00

4. KEVIN DARNELL MITCHELL

San Francisco Giants — outfield
Born: Jan. 13, 1962 — San Diego, Calif.
5'10" 200 lbs. — Bats: R Throws: R

INSIDE INFORMATION

The '89 season has been Mitchell's breakout year. Despite his versatility — he can play the left side of the infield as well as the outfield — Mitchell didn't fit into the World Champion '86 Mets' future plans and he was dealt to the Padres for 1987. At the advanced age of 25, Mitchell was deemed too old for the Pads' youth movement, and he was sent to San Francisco in July. At home and at ease with the Giants, Mitchell figures to keep Candlestick a contender for post-season play in the years to come. Those who bought Mitchell's cards when the price dipped after his exile from the Mets are now in a position to take big profits.

5. RYNE DEE SANDBERG

Chicago Cubs — 2nd base
Born: Sept. 18, 1959 — Spokane, Wash.
6'1" 175 lbs. — Bats: R Throws: R

INSIDE INFORMATION

Being the most popular Cub in recent years has kept the value of Sandberg's cards higher than might be the case of a player with similar stats who doesn't play on one of America's favorite teams. Since his MVP '84 season, Sandberg's offensive stats have drifted downward. His regular appearance on the All-Star squad has been more a tribute to his past than to his current performance. With Olympic star Ty Griffin poised to steal second base away from Sandberg, maybe as early as next season, Sandberg could become expendable. A trade to a less-publicized team could start a downward spiral in his cards' prices.

1988 Fleer

Cards in the 660-card '88 Fleer set feature an attractive design. The card backs carry an innovative "At Their Best" feature, which graphically shows a player's pitching or hitting statistics for home and road games and how he fared during day games as opposed to night contests. Cards (2½" by 3½") were issued with team logo stickers.

A + sign indicates the value of a card has risen since its last listing in BASEBALL CARD PRICE GUIDE MONTHLY.

A — sign indicates the price has dropped.

1988 Fleer Update

For the fifth consecutive year Fleer issued a 132-card set that updated 1988 player trades and included hot rookies. The cards measure 2½" by 3½" and were available only through hobby dealers.

1989 Fleer Baseball All Stars

This limited edition 44-card boxed set features clear full-color photos of major league All-Stars. The 2½" x 3½" cards feature photos in black outlined frames with rounded corners. In white lettering beneath the photo is the player's name, team, and position. Wide yellow and narrow pink vertical bands border the photo outline. Above each photo "Fleer" "Baseball" "All Stars" appears in white, red, and blue respectively. A white flip side with black print displays a bold set headline. Other card back features include biographical information, statistics, and the team logo. The set includes six team logo stickers. This boxed set was available only in Ben Franklin stores, and each box provides a complete set checklist on the back.

FREE — One 1988 San Bernardino Spirit minor league set when you subscribe to TUFF STUFF!

One of the players included in the FREE San Bernardino set is Ken Griffey Jr., Baseball America's 1988 Class A Player of the Year

We're making this offer because we want to get you hooked on TUFF STUFF, just like the 20,000 happy readers who have already joined us.

Each time Ken Griffey Jr. went to bat in San Bernardino, the announcer asked, "What time is it?" The crowd responded, "It's Griffey Time."

Now with the Seattle Mariners, Griffey is proving to be every bit as popular with the Mariner fans and with the press as he was in San Bernardino.

This is one of the premier sets for Cal League Cards, and if Griffey's development continues, this 28-card set could become one of the all-time greats. It's already selling for $8.00.

But that's enough about the incentive bonus. Let's look at some of the monthly features in TUFF STUFF that have made us the hottest baseball collecting publication of the 80s.

* Exclusive Price Guides - Today's top stars, the hottest rookies, complete baseball and football sets, World Series programs — data you just can't find elsewhere.

* Collectible Cover - We're well-known for our full color photos of the finest young players. They're collectible and ideal for autographing.

* "The Rookie Roster" - We offer a monthly price guide of every '89 rookie card produced by the major manufacturers. In addition to the latest prices, the cards are ranked by value and the percent of increase or decrease in value is computed.

* Unopened Price Guide - Packs, boxes, cases — TUFF STUFF offers the best monthly price guide for this "hot" segment of the hobby.

* Autographs - The most comprehensive coverage of this rapidly expanding area of our hobby, including values, trends, addresses, signing habits, etc.

* "Rating The Sets" - We do the research you don't have time to do on the popular sets, grading them on long term investment potential.

* "Where Are They Now?" - We track down and interview former Major Leaguers, quizzing them about their favorite memories, current life styles, autograph signing habits, etc.

* And much, much more....

TUFF STUFF is now 120 or more pages monthly with a full-color, collectible cover.

1989 UPDATED, ROOKIE AND TRADED SINGLES AND TEAM SETS

Again this year I will be stocking single cards and team sets from the Topps Traded, Fleer Updates, Donruss Rookies, and Score Rookie and Traded. This year I will be carrying the Upper Deck High Numbers as well.

At the time of the advertising deadline complete checklists were not yet available, so I will have to wait for a future issue to list those prices. However, if you are interested in what the prices are right now, at least some of the checklists should be available by now. Either give me a call or send an SASE and I'll let you know the prices on the cards that have been announced.
