Reno 911! Is Back

RENO 911!

(Tuesday, 10 pm/ET, Comedy Central) The riotous cop-com opens its third season with Lt. Jim Dangle (Thomas Lennon) and the deputies of "the Biggest Little City in the World" in the Big House for dereliction of duty. Mischief ensues when Jones (Cedric Yarbrough) freestyles a bad prison rap, Johnson (Wendi McLendon-Covey) inks Weigel (Kerri Kenney-Silver) with a kitty tattoo, and Dangle expands his peekaboo wardrobe by cutting off his orange jumpsuit into too-short shorts. Oz was never this much fun. —Bruce Fretts

And Don't Miss...

• THE DEAD ZONE SEASON

PREMIERE (Sunday, 10 pm/ET, USA Network) Psychic Johnny Smith (Anthony Michael Hall) returns to prevent more crimes, not to mention Armageddon.

• GLENN CLOSE LEAVES THE

SHIELD (Tuesday, 10 pm/ET, FX) The season finale answers the question: Will Capt. Monica Rawling resign—or get carried out in a pine box?

THE WORLD OF DIPPING

LETTERS

>> SURVIVOR: PALAU In a world of reality TV where people will do anything to win the big prize, the fact that Ian chose honor and friendship instead of a million dollars on Survivor: Palau gives me hope. It was the best moment on any reality show so far. —Sharon Houle, Waterville, Maine

>> THE APPRENTICE

After 18 insufferable weeks and a million candidates, The Apprentice comes down to Tana and Kendra? You've got to be kidding! Mark Burnett and Donald Trump, "You're fired!" —Mark Smith, Victor, N.Y.

Patrick Dempsey in Grey's Anatomy

>> BOB NEWHART I hope we see a lot more of Bob Newhart on Desperate Housewives. He says more with a shrug and a facial expression than most actors say with a whole page of dialogue. —Eric Michael Tabeling, Cottonwood, Ariz.

>> EVERYBODY LOVES RAYMOND Regarding Matt Roush's "Why I Really Did Love Raymond" [5/15]: The similarities between Everybody Loves Raymond and Seinfeld stop with the fact that both starred stand-up comics. It was never hip or cool to watch Raymond because it just wasn't funny. It shouldn't even be among the top 50 sitcoms. —Derek Byrne, Sacramento, Calif.

>> Everybody Loves Raymond is a TV classic, thanks to a terrific cast. My only disappointment was that Peter Boyle was never recognized with an Emmy. —Joe Santaniello, Madison Township, Pa.

>> TODAY I think viewers are tired of Katie Couric trying to run the whole

Bob Newhart in Desperate Housewives

NBC morning show [News Flashes, 5/15]. Remember, it's still called Today, not The Katie Couric Show. —Pat Thompson, Quincy, Ill.

>> ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

Linda Bell Blue, producer of ET and The Insider, has spent too much time in Hollyweird if she thinks Mary Kay Letourneau and Vili Fualau have a "unique love story" [Insider, 5/15]. Give me a break! When will the media stop using sensational journalism to gain ratings? —Gwendolyn Husing, Santa Clara, Calif.

>> RENO 911! What's the 411 on Reno 911!? It is a really funny show. —Sandi Bachman, Lakeport, Calif.

Lt. Dangle and his crew return June 14 for a third season on Comedy Central.

>> PATRICK DEMPSEY

Like a fine wine, Patrick Dempsey has only gotten better with age! He was the greatest geek-turned-hero in 1987's "Can't Buy Me Love," and now he's hotter than ever in Grey's Anatomy. —June Mosher, Belton, Mo.

PARTY PEOPLE

Who says you can't combine work and play? That's what these stars did during the New York City upfronts, the week of presentations when networks unveil their new fall lineups. But once the work was done, they hit the parties. At the Lucky/Cargo Club, some celebs walked out with goodie bags worth $5,000, including Bose headphones and James Jeans. Even the rich and famous love free stuff.

It's fast.
Maybe too fast.

NEWS Flashes

JUNE 12-18

Cliff-hanger Mysteries

SOLVED!

1 Who were those guys who took Walt on LOST?

Producers won't say, but they did offer a clue: "Listen to the last thing Rousseau says before Charlie and Sayid leave her alone on the beach," hints cocreator Damon Lindelof. (She said, "I heard them say they were coming...for the boy...") Yeah, that helps.

2 What happened to the terrorists' son, Behrooz Araz, on 24?

Early in the season, he held the country's fate in his hands. But in the show's finale, Behrooz (Jonathan Ahdout) was nowhere to be seen. Worry not. "Behrooz is fine," says 24 writer Evan Katz. Turns out a scene where Jack learns that authorities rescued Behrooz before terrorists could ship him out for "reeducation" was cut.

3 Will CSI: MIAMI's Calleigh Duquesne return?

Producers are mum about the fate of the ballistics expert (Emily Procter). But her rep gave us hope when he told us that Procter is in New Orleans "during her hiatus," filming the sequel to "Big Momma's House."

4 Have we seen the last of Carlos on DESPERATE HOUSEWIVES?

In a word, no. "We're building a prison set for him," reveals series creator Marc Cherry. "We'll see him pulling strings from inside the cell." Meanwhile, Gabrielle (Eva Longoria) won't be wanting for company: Cherry plans to introduce yet another suitor for Wisteria Lane's randiest wife. As if the hot gardener wasn't enough!

5 Will Martin or Danny die on WITHOUT A TRACE?

With agent Vivian Johnson's heart failing, fans were primed to expect the death of a key character. But the show's producers pulled a last-minute shocker when a foreign assassin shot hunky FBI agents Martin Fitzgerald (Eric Close) and Danny Taylor (Enrique Murciano). Which one will survive? "It's, in all honesty, up in the air," says creator Hank Steinberg. Hold up, you mean we'll have to wait till the fall to find out?

6 Who was at the door on VERONICA MARS?

The finale may have resolved the whole Lilly Kane who-dunit, but it opened the door (literally) to an even bigger mystery. Executive producer Rob Thomas ain't talkin' and the teen sleuth herself, Kristen Bell, says, "I don't even know!" But costar Teddy Dunn (Duncan) promises: "The first scene [next season] will reveal who's at the door."

7 Is GREY'S ANATOMY's Dr. Shepherd really married?

He sure is, confirms a source close to the show. And his wife, played by Kate Walsh, just might be joining the staff at Seattle Grace Hospital. Walsh has been tapped to play a neonatal specialist brought in to perform surgery on a woman who's pregnant with conjoined twins. Of course, this could spell trouble for Shepherd (Patrick Dempsey) and Meredith (Ellen Pompeo). Teases Walsh, "It's a huge twist."

8 Will Stacey be back on HOUSE?

Sela Ward is signed on for several episodes next season, so expect House's true love to be around a little longer. As for Ward's on-screen husband—he's still alive and will prove to be a worthy adversary for House. "He realizes what's going on between House and his wife," says executive producer Katie Jacobs, "and he is not going to go down easily."

Sopranos Extended?

Just when David Chase thought he was out, HBO pulled him back in. The Sopranos creator is talking with HBO about doing a seventh season of the mob hit. (The show's sixth season, now in production and slated to premiere next spring, was rumored to be the last.) Should a deal be reached, sources say Chase may tack on an additional six or so episodes to the current shooting schedule—allowing for an abbreviated seventh season à la Sex and the City. "I'd love to go on," says costar Michael Imperioli, "but the decision has to be made by David for the sake of the quality of the show. It wouldn't be based on money." When is it ever?

NCIS Star Quits

"I knew it would shock everybody," boasts NCIS creator Donald Bellisario of his decision to do in leading lady Sasha Alexander in the show's season finale. Bellisario says he crafted the killer twist after the actress asked to be released from her contract.

"Sasha came in with tears in her eyes," he recalls, "and said, 'I never worked this hard in my life. I don't have the stamina to do it [anymore]'." Now Bellisario's summer will be spent searching for her successor: "I'm looking to globalize the show, so I am going to cast someone non-American. Maybe an Australian." Yeah, because those Aussies aren't getting enough good roles. Additional reporting by Bruce Fretts and Mary Murphy

Lance Denies Split

Lance Armstrong has experienced plenty of tough times, from surviving cancer to winning six consecutive Tours de France. But his endurance, and his ability to focus on cycling, are now being put to the test—by the tabloids. As he prepares for his final ride in the Tour next month, the supercyclist is trying to outrun a published rumor that his relationship with Grammy winning girlfriend Sheryl Crow has reached the finish line. Armstrong adamantly denied the rumor in a recent phone call from his hometown of Austin, Texas. "Sheryl and I were in the car yesterday when somebody called us about the story," he says. "It is completely untrue."

Armstrong, 33, met Crow, 43, at a Las Vegas charity event in 2003 and says he's "mad about her. She is a great woman. We are very similar, and of course, it is a challenge sometimes to work things through, but she is a true blessing in my life. I have found happiness the second time around." (Armstrong and his ex-wife, Kristin, divorced in 2003.)

With Armstrong about to retire from cycling, are there wedding plans in the future? On that one, he says, "I always believe that it is best that the guy surprise the woman." —Mary Murphy

The Tour de France begins Saturday, 7/2, on Outdoor Life Network; Chasing Lance, FitTV's limited series profiling Armstrong and his team, premieres Wednesday, 6/15, 8 pm/ET.

What About Eva?

In other athlete-celebrity relationship news, Eva Longoria reignited rumors that she's still dating San Antonio Spurs point guard Tony Parker when she wore his jersey last month while taping a promo for the NBA finals. Longoria's spokeswoman had no comment, but we suspect the ubiquitous Desperate Housewife and the Frenchman are playing a little one-on-one.

Tommy Hilfiger

THE CUT airs
Thursdays, 8 pm/ET,
on CBS.

Want to Work for Tommy Hilfiger? Many people do. And in his new Apprentice-style show, The Cut, 16 clotheshounds fight for a chance at a $250,000 salary while designing their own collection under the Tommy Hilfiger label. Hilfiger took a break from running his "global lifestyle brand" to talk about his latest venture. —Ali Gazan

Why recruit designers through a TV show? It's a fun idea. A lot of people think [what I do] is just about fashion design. It's much broader than that.

Some people might think you ripped off Bravo's Project Runway. [That show] was coming to fruition as we were filming and everybody said, "Oh, they're stealing your idea." In fact, we are so different. It's night and day. How so? We're not just about designing clothes. It's about business acumen. It's about social skills. It's about dealing with celebs.

Were you very involved in the whole process? I was involved every step of the way. Being in control of my own company for so long has trained me to really be in control of everything I do. I have a reputation to protect.

Do you have any Omarosas in the bunch? You wouldn't believe the personalities. I didn't realize how quirky, backstabbing and catty [they] would be because I personally didn't do the casting. But they amazed me.

Any romances in the house? There were secret romances, actually.

Will we see that on the show? You'll be able to detect it. People were much more two-faced than I expected.

Fuzzy Math

With an average of 10.7 million viewers each week, NBC's Law & Order: Trial by Jury earns the dubious distinction of being the season's highest-rated show to be canceled. On the flip side, UPN's Veronica Mars, with 2.4 million viewers, was the least-watched show to survive.

Falling Out of Grace

NBC's Will & Grace (below) lost more than six million viewers from last season, averaging just 10.3 million sets of eyeballs each week.

7 Things You Didn't Know About Batman

Crusader swoops back onto movie screens this week in director Christopher Nolan's retelling of the superhero's origins, "Batman Begins." To celebrate his comeback, we discovered a belfryful of secrets from his long, colorful history. —Frank DeCaro and Rich Sands

2,000+ COVERS

The Dark Knight first appeared in "Detective Comics" No. 27 in 1939 (current value: $350,000). Since then, Batman has appeared on well over 2,000 comic covers—the best of which are showcased in the new book Batman: Cover to Cover (DC Comics). His first TV GUIDE cover: March 26, 1966 with TV's Batman, Adam West.

"GOTHAM CITY IS NEW YORK ON STEROIDS!"

That's how "Batman Begins" production designer Nathan Crowley imagined Batman's hometown. The new movie's Gotham is four times bigger than New York and also includes elements of Tokyo and the Kowloon City slums of Hong Kong. The location of Wayne Manor and the Batcave was inspired by the suburban Palisades of New Jersey, across the river from Manhattan!

BATMAN'S LINK TO REALITY TV

The Real World: San Francisco's Judd Winick has become a rock star in comicdom, and is in the midst of a well-received run writing the "Batman" title. He even stuck a bat-reference into the first episode of his new Cartoon Network series, The Life & Times of Juniper Lee (Sundays, 7:30 pm/ET).

THE CAPE CRUSADER GETS FRISKY

Bruce Wayne maintains a public image as a playboy primarily as a facade to protect his secret identity. But he is a man, after all, and he has his needs. In recent comic book story lines, Batman has flirted with his Justice League teammate Wonder Woman. That fizzled out, but lately Brucie's been getting up close and very personal with Catwoman.

FAMOUS VOICES REVEALED

Among the actors who've lent their voices to Warner Bros. Animation's various Batman series are Mark Hamill, who went from Jedi to Joker on Batman: The Animated Series in the 1990s (left), and Tom Kenny, the voice of SpongeBob SquarePants, who quacks wise as the Penguin on the newest series, The Batman. Also on The Batman is Frank Gorshin, the Riddler in the '60s live-action series. Gorshin had already recorded three episodes before his death last month, playing Arkham Asylum chief of psychiatry Hugo Strange. And TV's original Batman, Adam West, gives voice to the mayor of Gotham City these days. "It gives me a certain political stature," West says. (The Batman airs Saturdays, 10:30 am/ET, on WB, and 8:30 pm, on Cartoon Network.)

BATMAN'S LOST CONNECTION FOUND

Lost writer and story editor Paul Dini—one of the architects of Batman: The Animated Series and Batman Beyond—hasn't snuck any bat-references into the ABC megahit yet, but a comic book featuring the Caped Crusader's Super Friends, Green Lantern and Flash, appeared in one episode. "It was a weird moment of DC Comics synergy," Dini says. But "Batman is very special to me, so I kind of leave him alone. If it's a goof on Batman, I'd rather not do it."

BATMAN PIMPS HIS RIDE

The latest Batmobile, a 340-horsepower cross between a Humvee and a Lamborghini, was created by "Batman Begins" production designer Nathan Crowley and his team. "Batman has to drive a car that's tough enough for Gotham," Crowley says.

The 2.5-ton vehicle can hit speeds of 100 miles per hour and jump from four to six feet off the ground for a distance of up to 60 feet. (Eight models were built for various sequences.)

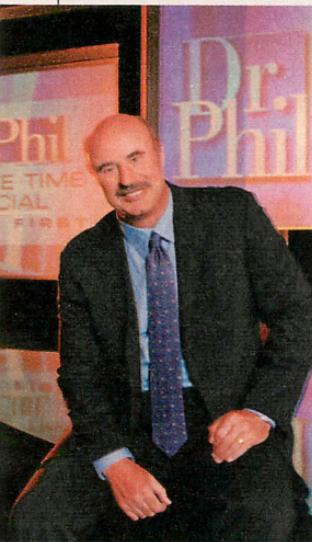

Initially seen in Desert Storm camouflage in the film, Christian Bale's Bruce Wayne gets to utter what may become the film's signature line: "Does it come in black?"

by Michael Davis

Daytime Dilemma

Are talk shows too tough for kids?

Dear Dr. Phil,

With summer break season here, I have a dilemma. My middle-school-age granddaughter and her friends love daytime TV, like many kids their age. (According to Nielsen, surveys indicate that about 170,000 of your daily viewers are between 12 and 17.) She's coming to visit soon, and I'm conflicted over whether I want her watching talk shows like yours.

You seem genuinely concerned about young people, and some days your topics are suitable for family viewing. The episode in April based on letters kids had written to you was a sensitively produced hour that families could have benefited from watching together. A segment involving a 24-year-old who raised five siblings while caring for her sick mom was nothing short of inspirational.

You have also had some dramatic segments involving abused children, kids tossed about by family discord and divorce, teens who turn to substance abuse out of boredom, rebellion or peer pressure.

But during May sweeps, you had episodes about the infidelity of "desperate husbands" and polygamous cults that force young girls to marry and bear children for older men. Not exactly kid-friendly fare, I'm certain you would agree. (I have the same problem with Oprah's show. One day it's a lighter-than-air chat with Julia Roberts, another it's an hour on domestic violence.)

As a parent and, presumably, a responsible voice in the TV industry, you must realize that daytime TV has its merits but is also fraught with peril: Inappropriate topics are just a click away. So I'm going to tell my granddaughter, "While the Dr. Phil show may often be about children, it's not always for children: Please don't watch it if I'm not around to watch with you, OK?"

JANE GOODALL Q&A

Dogs that detect cancer, rats that sniff out land mines and orcas that befriend a killer-whale watcher. In When Animals Talk (Sunday, 6/12, 8 pm/ET, Animal Planet), Jane Goodall explains the mystery of critter communication. —Megan Howard

► The animals in this special live around the globe. Are there cultural differences in the animal world? Animals do learn to obey commands in different languages. But the deep-down communication is the same. I find that very much with people, too.

► Are kids better at talking with animals? Yes, children will often pick up what animals are trying to communicate quicker than adults.

► Why is it important to tell stories like this? It's important because there are still so many misconceptions [about animal communication]. It will change the way people think.

He's the hottest stud to hit Late Night since Triumph the Insult Comic Dog.

JEERS to The Apprentice for its sloppy third-season finale. With emcee Donald Trump missing cues and mixing up contestants, and finalists Kendra and Tana seeming not to know where to stand, the show packed all the production values of a fourth-grade school play. ## Mild, Mild West

Yes, it's epic, but is that enough?

If size and sprawl were all, Into the West might qualify as one of the best TV Westerns ever made. Instead, it feels like every TV Western ever made. (And Lonesome Dove remains the best.)

There's a "been there, rode that" quality to this handsome miniseries, which packages a 12-hour story into six weekly chapters. The narrative alternates between the wheel-making Wheelers, who hail from Virginia—wheels are a mighty metaphor—and the beleaguered Lakota tribe, who revere a symbolic wheel of life.

So much ground is covered, from gold rush to railroad to Little Big Horn, and often in such a familiar fashion, that the result can be both hurried and tedious. Still, it's easy enough to get caught up in the flow, if not with the paper-thin characters.

Unlike HBO's Deadwood, so full of vulgar grit and dastardly wit, Into the West takes a glossy Hallmark approach to the pioneer spirit and its impact on Native American culture. Most of the main characters, if not too good to be true, are too good to be truly interesting. There's plenty of violence, sudden tragedy and bitter irony, but these pawns of history lack complexity, so their living and dying rarely resonate.

Of the three nights available for review, the best is the second (June 17), a wagon train episode, with a flamboyant guest turn by Beau Bridges as the ill-fated caravan's blustery leader, and the ever-radiant Keri Russell as a Wheeler who learns to love the Cheyenne.

Despite its shortcomings, West represents a type of TV-expansive and visually dynamic—that's all too rare. I'll be surprised if it's not a hit.

ROUSH RAVE

I love WB's Beauty and the Geek (Wednesdays, 8 pm/ET) because it's not a dating show, and, unlike NBC's icky Average Joe, it's not hiding a humiliating twist down the road to surprise and degrade the players. This entertaining concoction from Punk'd duo Ashton Kutcher and Jason Goldberg teams socially awkward geniuses (one whose nose bleeds when stressed) with pretty but shallow bombshells, each coaching the other—and, crucially, cheering each other on—as they're tested on alien disciplines, like women's fashion for the geeks and rocket science for the beauties. It's funny and adorable—how many reality shows can you describe that way?

SUNDAYS, 9 PM/ET, FOX

EXPOSED!

LOIS (Alex Borstein)

The infinitely patient wife and mother with a wild streak. Old flame: Chaim Witz (aka KISS' Gene Simmons). Special recipe: Beefaroni casserole. Has a weakness for: Bathroom humor. Motherly advice: "My daughter needs a makeover like there's no fricking tomorrow." What does she see in Peter? "I think Lois really enjoys the little boy in him," Borstein says. "And I think he's pretty good in the sack. I think she's pleased."

PETER

(show creator Seth MacFarlane)

The loud, tactless, devil-may-care dad who never met a can of beer or a TV show he didn't like. Defining quote: "Things always work out if you just do whatever you want without worrying about the consequences." Special talent: He's a piano virtuoso when drunk. Startling secret: Ancestor Nate Griffin was a slave owned by his wife's family. Future plans: Starting a religion that worships "the Fonz." MacFarlane's advice to Peter: "Pick up a book once in a while."

STEWIE (Seth MacFarlane)

The baby with the Henry Higgins accent who dreams of world domination and an end to the "gynecocracy" of his mother, Lois. He also practices cross-dressing and channeling Julie Andrews. Middle name: Gilligan. Favorite Christmas gift: Weapons-grade plutonium.

Defining quote: "When the world is mine, your death will be quick and painless." Scariest moment: Peter's attempt to breast-feed him. Explaining Stewie's sexuality: "He hasn't settled on whether he's gay or not," MacFarlane says. "Right now it's funny for him to play both sides."

Who would play him in a Broadway version of Family Guy: David Hyde Pierce.

BRIAN (Seth MacFarlane)

The Griffins' talking dog with a passion for booze, books and his best friend's wife. Favorite magazines: Barely Legal Bitches; Utne Reader. Rap sheet:

Drunk driving; failure to wear dog tags. Past occupations: Remedial English teacher; porno director; drug-sniffing police dog.

Defining quote: "Whose leg do I have to hump to get a dry martini around here?" Greatest humiliation: Forced to enter a dog show. What MacFarlane has in common with him: "I enjoy my Jack Daniel's and I'm an old-fashioned romantic at heart."

Major difference: "Brian chews on his own butt."

CHRIS (Seth Green)

The adolescent son whose brain hasn't kept pace with his growing body. Middle name: Cross. Private horror: The evil monkey that lives in his closet. Special talents: Drawing and abstract painting; extraordinarily well endowed. Defining quote:

(said to a Twinkie) "I'm going to turn you into pool!"

Not-so-secret admirer:

The old man on his paper route. Green's performance secret:

"Louder is really funny."

MEG (Mila Kunis) The Griffins' morose teenage daughter, who pays a high price for being almost normal. Special talents: Bird calls; sulking. Greatest humiliation: Was replaced by a pretty blond in The Real Live Griffins, a reality show about her own family. Recent milestone: Losing her virginity to Jimmy Fallon. What is Meg's problem?

"Everybody goes through their unusual, uncomfortable stage," Kunis says. "She's just going through it for the rest of her life."

YOU WON'T SEE THIS ON TV In the 2000 episode "Road to Rhode Island," Stewie distracts airport security by singing "On the Good Ship Lollipop." After a cache of weapons passes through the scanner, he says, "I hope Osama bin Laden doesn't know show tunes." Cut to Osama singing a song from "A Chorus Line." The gag was deleted for future airings after the September 11 attacks. In a bizarre coincidence, MacFarlane was booked on the hijacked jet out of Boston. He missed the flight.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

Family Guy creator Seth MacFarlane, now 31, wasn't much older than Stewie Griffin when he decided he'd make animation his career. That didn't always sit well with his younger sister, Rachel, 29 (top right).

"As a little kid I remember trying to get him to come and play and all he wanted to do was draw," she says. "He was kind of a loner as a child. It was a bit frustrating to have a brother who was that intense." Seth has since made it up to her. Now an actress, Rachel has done numerous voices for her brother's hit show and plays Hayley, CIA agent Stan Smith's daughter, on his other animated Fox series, American Dad! Rachel remembers the MacFarlanes' home in Kent, Connecticut, as a place where creative juices could freely flow. Her parents were "closet hippies" ("My father was at Woodstock," she notes) who performed folk songs at local fundraisers. She and her brother joined the town's community theater program at an early age, which explains Seth's taste for musical theater

(and the song-and-dance numbers on Family Guy). Riding the bus to school, Rachel reveals, he'd listen to show tunes and movie scores on his Walkman. The habit hasn't changed much. "Seth is such an old soul," she says. "Get in his car and the musical selections are karaoke sing-along CDs of 'Hello, Dolly!' He loves big, lush orchestrations. He doesn't understand a lot of hip pop culture now." But judging from the '80s sitcom parodies crammed throughout Family Guy, the MacFarlane kids were clearly allowed plenty of TV time. "My parents were very liberal," confirms Rachel.

A FEW OF HIS FAVORITE SONGS

How important is music to Family Guy? The producers once agreed to cut a flatulence joke so that the Rodgers and Hammerstein Foundation would give them permission to use a song from "The Sound of Music." The show's big musical numbers are played by a full symphony orchestra—a rarity, as most TV scoring is now done digitally. There have even been talks about bringing a live version of Family Guy to Broadway. The show's composers, Walter Murphy (the man behind the '70s disco hit "A Fifth of Beethoven") and Ron Jones, say matching up the score with pop-culture references in each episode is akin to a musical scavenger hunt. From raga to ragtime, no genre is left unturned. With MacFarlane's savantlike knowledge of musical obscurities, it isn't easy. "He'll say, 'I want something like this Tony Bennett thing when he was at the Sands Hotel in 1967,'" Jones says. "And I'll go, 'How do you know this crap?'"

New American Idol Carrie Underwood on her performance skills, staying humble and being true to her country roots

CARRIE

IN THE END, THE COUNTRY got Carried away. Carrie Underwood—the 22-year-old country-singin' sweetheart from tiny Checotah, Oklahoma—triumphed over more experienced Alabama rocker Bo Bice, 29, in the fourth-season finale of Fox's American Idol as 36 million fans watched. TV GUIDE caught up with an ecstatic Underwood moments after her win last month.

What were you thinking when you heard you had won? Before [host] Ryan [Seacrest] said my name, I thought about peekin' at the [results] card. Then I was like, "Nooo." [Laughs] It took me a second to realize he called my name. Then I thought, "How on earth am I gonna sing?" [She performed her first single, "Inside Your Heaven."] I was so emotional.

So you didn't expect to win? I kinda prepared myself either way. I didn't wanna go in like, "I'm gonna win" and then have it not happen. Bo's so wonderful. I think it was probably very close.

You've said Bo's like your big brother. Did you guys click right away? We're both Southern and we were among several city folk, so yeah.

What other finalist did you bond with? Lindsey [Cardinale]. She's from Louisiana, so we latched on to each other real quick.

Were you intimidated performing at the Kodak Theatre for the finale? The first time I stepped on stage, I almost lost it. If you put all the crowds I've ever played in front of all together, it would not equal the size of that crowd. And it's where the Oscars are held!

Were you nervous to perform with Rascal Flatts? I guess people expect stars to be arrogant, but oh gosh, they were so nice. They were like, "We're behind you 1,000 percent."

Simon Cowell predicted you'd win early on. Did that make you more confident? If I had been sitting there watching, I probably would've been like, "Excuse me? It's really early to be sayin' that." I took it as a compliment, because in previous seasons I tended to agree with him, but it also worried me a bit.

ON!

There's been some criticism that you're a little wooden. I know my performance skills aren't like Bo's. I need to work on that. I mean, I've never been in a situation like American Idol before. I performed a little bit in high school at county fairs and some music festivals, but when I got to college, I kind of quit.

Why? I thought, "OK, Carrie, some dreams are supposed to be dreams. Time to grow up and go to college and get a real job." But I prayed about it. I was like, "If this is what I'm supposed to do, then the right doors will open up." And they did.

Would you like to finish college? I spent three and a half years working toward [a journalism degree], so it's not something I wanna throw away. And who knows? Something horrible could happen and I could never be able to sing again.

What kind of album do you want to make? Country. I'll just listen to a whole bunch of songs and see which ones stand out to me.

Have you gotten used to being a household name yet? I don't think you can get used to that. I honestly hope I don't. I mean, I know where I come from and I really wanna keep people around who remind me of that. If I can do that, I think it's gonna be fun. ■

FUTURE TENSE

Think the mysteries of The 4400 were solved?

BY MARK NOLLINGER

The 4400

SUNDAYS, 9 PM/ET, USA NETWORK

IF THE STEAMY SCENE being filmed today is any indication, USA Network's popular sci-fi series The 4400 might be inventing a new genre: science friction.

Billy Campbell, who plays manipulative millionaire Jordan Collier, is rolling around in bed stark naked, working his, well, butt off to simulate passion with guest star Noa Tishby. After uncooperative sheets derail several takes by revealing glimpses of Tishby's pasties, Campbell voices a concern of his own. "Was my ass sweaty enough on that one?" he asks director Osborne Scott. Everyone laughs. The actor later confesses that faking sex for the cameras is no thrill. "They're never fun," he says about love scenes. "In fact, to an extent you exist in the fear of it becoming fun. You know what I mean?"

We, and the show's six million viewers, can only imagine. After debuting last summer as a miniseries, The 4400 became the year's top-rated original drama on basic cable. Last week's season premiere as a series was the first of this summer's 13 episodes, which will advance the mystery of the 4,400—a group of strangers who had been missing for years before suddenly returning to Earth without having aged a day and with no recollection of where they'd been. In some cases, the returnees were endowed with freaky new abilities.

Executive producer Scott Peters concedes that last year's finale revealed a big part of the miniseries' secret. "But that opened up a whole bunch of other questions," he adds. "It's a ripple effect."

For those who missed it, Agent Tom Baldwin (Joel Gretsch) of the National Threat Assessment Command, or NTAC, learned in last summer's finale that the returnees had been taken by humans from the future as part of a plan to change history and stave off a coming disaster. But the exact nature of the scheme remains unknown.

Picking up a year after that revelation, last week's premiere found Tom and partner Diana Skouris (Jacqueline McKenzie), who's adopted the cute-but-creepy little precognitive girl Maia (Conchita Campbell), resuming their investigation of the 4,400 under the direction of new, no-nonsense NTAC chief Jarvis (Samantha Ferris). But the most shocking development involved the mysterious infant Isabella, who saved her parents, Richard (Mahershala Hashbaz Ali) and Lily (Laura Allen), from a murderous preacher and his acolytes by using her strange powers to force them to turn their guns on one another. "All I can say is, Watch out for that baby," Peters says. "She's the beating heart of the mystery."

As for Collier, he's turned the returnees' experience into a kind of pop-spirituality movement, opening a 4400 Center and grooming young returnee Shawn (Patrick Flueger) as his protégé—while using Shawn's healing powers to rake in cash from contributors. "It smells a great deal like a cult," Campbell says. "But I can't tell if Collier is manipulating the whole thing or actually doing what he feels is right. Scott Peters won't even tell me if he's a bad guy. Maybe he thinks if he tells me, I'll start hammering it up."

So where are all these threads leading? Don't even ask. "I don't want to give things away," Peters says. "But there are some great twists and turns coming up throughout. And we've tried very hard to craft them so that you can't see them coming."

There is one twist Peters can't hide: Collier will definitely vanish from The 4400 before season's end. The reason? Campbell's taking time off from his career to spend 13 months crewing on a round-the-world voyage aboard a square-rigged tall ship. "I got in the [acting] business in 1982, and I feel like my life's been on hold for 22 years," says the unmarried 45-year-old Campbell, who was inspired to go to sea after reading the novels of Master and Commander author Patrick O'Brian. "I don't think there's anywhere I've ever been that I've felt as at home as when I'm on a ship. It sort of burns the fat in life away."

Still, Campbell's sojourn doesn't mean we've necessarily seen the last of Collier. "By the time I get back next year, they'll be shooting again," Campbell says. "So I can come back here and go straight to work." Wow, a possible plot point for next season is revealed with this one barely under way. Now that's a spoiler! ■

Six Feet Under

MONDAYS, 9 PM/ET, HBO

As he chats with a producer between takes on the Los Angeles set of Six Feet Under, star Peter Krause pretends not to realize that a reporter can overhear their conversation. "People are going to be shocked," he says, "when the show ends with a nuclear holocaust."

He's just kidding—we think. Then again, this is the final season of Six Feet Under, the deep, dark saga of the funeral-home-owning Fisher clan, and shocks are the show's stock-in-trade. From the often gruesome deaths that open each episode (this week, a man runs over himself with his own SUV), violent jolts visit the Fishers with alarming frequency. "Upending expectations has been part of the signature of the show," says executive producer Alan Poul. "So why stop now?"

In fact, the HBO drama's farewell season boasts the biggest shocker in the show's five-year life span. Suffice it to say that fate deals another cruel blow to the Fishers in the ninth of this summer's 12 installments. "The other day, we were shooting something really horrifying," says Lauren Ambrose (rebel-artiste daughter Claire Fisher), chilling in her trailer during the episode's production. "And I really did have the sense that the show was indeed coming to an end."

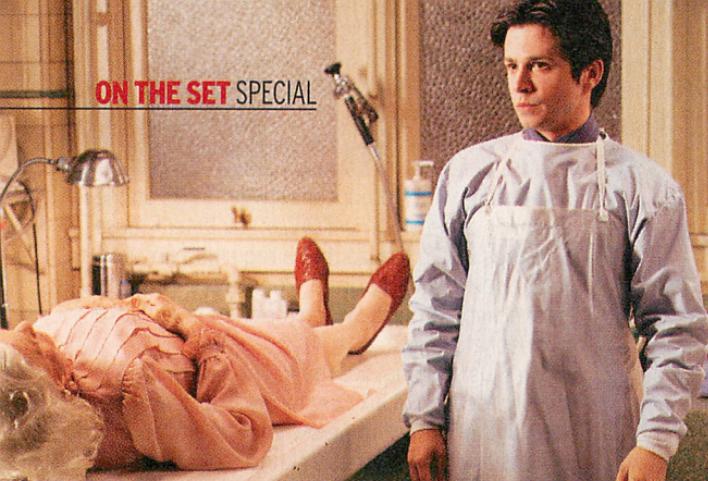

The news that creator Alan Ball was pulling the plug surprised cast members. "When we got the phone call, most of us weren't anticipating this to be the last season," Krause says. "We thought we'd do two more."

But when the creator decides your time's up, in there's no appealing to a higher power. "I feel like the show has run its course, and I'm burnt-out and hungry to work on something new," Ball explains. "And if Six Feet Under is about anything, it's about how everything ends, but life goes on."

RACHEL GRIFFITHS WADDLES onto the set wearing a formfitting dress that shows off her bulbous stomach (she's expecting a baby girl this month). "I almost gave it away the other day," she says of this season's Big Secret. "I was at the hairdresser, and I had painted a sad face on my belly. I told him it was because we had been shooting such a sad scene that much more unsuccessful route," Ball says. "But as is often the case, I feel like it worked out better [this way]."

Brenda and Nate aren't the only characters expanding their household. Nate's brother, David (Michael C. Hall), and longtime companion Keith (Mathew St. Patrick) will become foster parents of two brothers and also consider having a child via a surrogate (Jennifer Elise Cox). "They both want a family, so it's the next step," Ball says. "Granted, they've experimented with open relationships, but they're fairly traditional guys. They did meet at church."

David could use some good news after getting kidnapped in a brutal episode that turned off some fans last season. "I knew it would be upsetting [to viewers]," Hall says. "But it's exciting to be part of something polarizing."

Meanwhile, Fisher matriarch Ruth (Frances Conroy) endured the sudden meltdown of second husband George (James Cromwell), who'll continue to battle depressive psychosis this season (see page 38). "It was very upsetting," Conroy says. "It was a stunning realization that he was in trouble, and it happened so quickly."

Marital discord will also linger for funeral-home partner Federico Diaz (Freddy Rodriguez) and wife Vanessa (Justina Machado) day that I thought it had made my baby sad. And he was like, 'Sad? What's sad?'"

The season isn't entirely tragic for Griffiths' character: Brenda and new husband Nate (Krause) will be conceiving a child of their own. The pregnancy wasn't exactly planned by Six Feet Under's writers. "I talked to Alan [Ball] the day after I found out I was pregnant," recalls Griffiths. "I was like, 'Oh, I should tell you that I'm pregnant.' And there was this very long silence."

The story lines subsequently needed a slight adjustment. "We had planned for

At least Claire will find love—but not with Brenda's schizo brother, Billy (Jeremy Sisto); their affair turns into "a train wreck," Ambrose says. Instead, Claire strikes sparks with an emotionally stable coworker (Chris Messina) at the chemical company where she takes a new job. "He's a different kind of guy for her," Ball says. "He's not a self-involved, overly sensitive art freak."

After shooting their scenes, the stars ponder life after Six Feet Under. "It's going to be heart-wrenching to be ripped away from these people," Ambrose says. Her small-screen siblings look on the bright side. "I'm ready to mix it up," Hall says. "Maybe play someone lighter." Krause concurs: "I'd love to do some comedy, because this has been a long five years for me. I've done a lot of weeping and gnashing my teeth, and I've kinda run out of gas." Rest in peace, brother. ■

Viewers aren't the only ones shocked by Six Feet Under's plot twists. Sometimes the actors are, too. Take James Cromwell, who's not crazy about George's recent descent into madness. "They didn't tell me what was going to happen to this guy—all of a sudden, he started to fall to pieces, and I had no idea," gripes Cromwell, whose character undergoes electroshock therapy this season. "I'm not used to working this way. I like to know when I'm being led somewhere."

Cromwell thinks he's earned the right to be warned of such a sudden switcheroo. "S---, I've been doing this for 40 years," he says. "I'm not a goof. I understand if you've got a 19-year-old kid who doesn't know his ass from a hole in the ground, but people spend their lives doing this. It doesn't add any more life to keep actors out of the loop."

In his own defense, creator Alan Ball pleads ignorance, claiming that even the writers don't know what's coming up for the characters. "It's funny that he has a problem with it, because I think he's done some of his best work and he should be proud of that," Ball says. "But a lot of times, actors tend to confuse their characters with themselves and don't want to be weak or infirm or unlikable." By George, we think he's got it.

It doesn't matter whether your knee problems are due to arthritis, an accident, torn cartilage, a bad fall, or the ravages of age ... when it comes to your knees you want real support. Support that really works. Powerful yet comfortable support! The absolute maximum support you can get only from the miraculous Barlow POWER Knee Support.

FOR MEN & WOMEN OF ALL AGES

You've probably tried ordinary knee supports and elastic bandages, without getting real relief. But the Barlow POWER Knee Support is so unusual, so superior, it gives you exceptional support, relief and complete comfort. It's so remarkable its been patented by the U.S. government. Believe us, there is absolutely no other knee support like it. There is no other POWER Support on the face of the earth.

The Barlow POWER Knee Support is extremely lightweight. Unbelievably comfortable. Provides your knee with maximum lateral and cap support. Helps you absorb shock and prevents twisting. Gives you greater flexibility of movement without feeling like you're wearing a brace or support.

30 DAY NO-RISK OFFER

Best of all, it is guaranteed to end your knee pain!

The POWER Knee Support was specially developed by Coach "Cotton" Barlow for athletes. But it is ideal for everyone. This fantastic invention uses no metal. It is made of a remarkable material that insulates, warms and soothes your knees - especially helps weak or arthritic joints.

Try Coach Barlow's POWER Knee Support for 30 days. If you're not 100% satisfied, just return it for a refund of your full purchase price. No questions asked.

HOROSCOPE

by Sally Brompton

ARIES (March 21-April 20) Rules and regulations mean nothing to you, and you seem to believe you can do as you please. The surprising thing is you appear to be right. You've become bold now that Mars, your ruling planet, is moving into your own sign.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) Just because some people speak fast and look as if they know what they're talking about doesn't mean you can trust them. Others may say you're being unnecessarily suspicious, but the planets warn that you can't be too careful.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) Friendships and group activities will get a boost this week. Suddenly, you're in demand again. The only danger is that you might allow yourself to be talked into doing too many things, leaving you worn out by the end of the week.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) If you value your reputation, then you must watch what you say this week. Mars, planet of ego and energy, is crossing the angle of your chart that governs your professional status, which could be good or bad, depending on your self-knowledge and self-control.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) Don't sit at home this week unless you absolutely have to. There is a world out there waiting to be explored, and no matter your age, health or income, you can find a way to get out and have fun. So be adventurous. Travel a bit.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) Tuesday's sun-Pluto opposition cuts across the axis of your chart that governs both your home life and your work. You'll need to decide which one is more important to you, at least in the short term.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) You may not agree with what a colleague does this week, but you're smart enough to realize there's no point in kicking up a fuss about it. As Mars moves into your opposite sign of Aries, you'll have to let others take the lead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This is the ideal time to look at your workload and find ways to cut back on the more onerous commitments. There are ways to streamline your day without cutting corners or doing less than a brilliant job. Delegate more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) One of the most promising times of the year begins this week as Mars, planet of energy, moves in your favor. If there are any creative projects you would like to develop, now is the time to give them your full attention.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20) You mustn't allow yourself to be rushed or talked into doing things that don't feel right. That applies doubly if others try to persuade you with sob stories of one kind or another. They are almost certainly being lazy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Not everyone thinks or acts as fast as you, so make allowances for those who don't share your talents. If you spell out slowly and simply what it is you expect of others, they'll make an effort to provide what you need.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If your money situation isn't as strong as you would like it to be, you'll soon get the chance to do something about it. However, a lot will depend on your willingness to take risks. That doesn't mean you must gamble with resources, but don't play it safe either.

TV GUIDE SPECIAL

Jane Goodall's When Animals Talk

Jane Goodall addresses an intriguing question: Can animals and humans communicate with—and understand—each other? The program opens with pet owners, who readily testify that their critters both listen and, in their own way, talk back. Creatures in the wild, as Goodall recounts in her experiences with chimps, first need to get comfortable being with people. There are examples of interactions with other species, such as researcher Roberto Bubas's study of killer whales, which led to his being able to play with them. (2:00) —Rick Toy

TV GUIDE DRAMA

Independent Lens

A young, gay black painter named Perry (Anthony Mackie) connects with his Harlem Renaissance roots (and finds a soul mate) in "Brother to Brother," writer-director Rodney Evans' pointed, passionate dramatic film, a Special Jury Prize winner at the 2004 Sundance Film Festival. Perry's connection: gay writer-artist Bruce Nugent (Roger Robinson), who founded Fire!! magazine in 1926 with Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston and

Wallace Thurman, all of whom are portrayed in flashbacks. Perry relates to the three as he finds himself fighting many of the same battles they did. (1:30) —Paul Drosch

SEASON OPENER

Reno 911!

It's been almost a year since Reno's finest were indicted on corruption charges and sent to the big house. In the hilarious third-season opener, a series of deadpan interviews reveals how the squad has been dealing with the harsh prison conditions. It seems that Dangle is practicing German; Clementine is curled up in a fetal position and crying; Trudi has been having night terrors; and Junior has been smuggling contraband into his cell. But all is not lost. Damaging evidence surfaces against the DA who prosecuted them, throwing the entire case into doubt.

The Shield

During an intense tenure spent dealing with a ruthless drug lord and Aceveda's power trips, Rawling finally reaches her boiling point in the fourth-season finale. Hoping to prevent Antwon's release, she tells Mackey to take down the Salvadoran cartel. As if undermining the DEA's deal isn't bad enough, she also takes possession of a corrupt foster home despite the fact that her seizure policy was suspended. Rawling's days at the Farm are numbered since Glenn Close is exiting the series. But before she leaves, she learns that someone is harboring explosive secrets.

TV GUIDE NEW SERIES

30 Days

Debut: Filmmaker Morgan Spurlock ("Super Size Me") brings his provocative style to the small screen with a documentary series that shines a light on society's shortcomings. The premise: People spend a month in an unfamiliar environment that is at odds with their upbringing, profession or spiritual beliefs. The filmmaker and his fiancée are the guinea pigs in the opener as they struggle to live on minimum wage. Spurlock also serves as host and narrator for later episodes, in which issues of homosexuality, alcoholism and religious intolerance are explored. (1:00) —Nat Hayes

Species (1995) R: SS, V, SL. Tongue-in-cheek thriller about a homicidal creature that looks like a supermodel and carries a combination of human and alien DNA. Natasha Henstridge, Ben Kingsley, Michael Madsen. (2:00 ★★) —Sat./Early Sun. 12 mid. (SHO)

Stoked: The Rise and Fall of Gator (2002) NR Documentary about celebrated '80s skateboarder Mark "Gator" Rogowski, who fell from grace when he was accused of murder in 1991. Well-drawn and absorbing. (1:25 ★★★) —Wed./Early Thurs. 1:45 AM, Sat./Early Sun. 3:35 AM (SHO)

Stuck on You (2003) PG-13: SL. The bond between conjoined twins is tested when one of them wants to pursue an acting career. Charming cast, one-joke premise. Matt Damon, Greg Kinnear. (2:00 ★★) —Tues. 2 PM (HBO)

TV GUIDE'S STAR RATINGS

In this feature, theatrical movies are accompanied by star ratings of ★★★★ (excellent), ★★★ (good), ★★ (fair) or ★ (poor). Our evaluations are based on a number of factors, including a consensus of leading critics, quality of cast and director, awards earned and box-office performance. Though movies may be edited for television, our ratings are based on the original, complete film. The absence of stars indicates an unrated movie. TV GUIDE does not evaluate movies if the criteria cannot be applied because too few facts are known (example: a minor foreign film), or if the film is made for television or released directly to video.

PARENTAL GUIDANCE

The official MPAA content rating (G, PG, PG-13, R or NC-17) is provided for every unedited film that has received one (NR: not rated). We also offer advisories about content (AT = adult themes, BN = brief nudity, N = nudity, SL = strong language, SS = sexual situations, V = violence). Parents should be aware that films containing adult themes or sexual situations frequently involve nudity, even though our advisory may not explicitly say so.

Surviving Christmas (2004)

PG-13: AT, SS, SL. A lonely ad exec (Ben Affleck) offers to pay the sullen owners of his childhood home to let him spend the holidays there. This uneven comedy lacks comfort and joy. (1:35 ★) —Sat. 7:30 PM (HBO)

Talent for the Game (1991) PG:

SL, AT. Edward James Olmos as a baseball scout. Lorraine Bracco. (1:30) —Thurs. 6 AM (HBO)

A Time to Kill (1996) R: V, SL, AT.

Absorbing but slow adaptation of John Grisham's first novel about a white lawyer (Matthew McConaughey) defending a black man (Samuel L. Jackson). (2:30 ★★) —Tues./Early Wed. 3:55 AM (HBO)

Tough Luck (Direct to Video; 2003)

R: V, SS. The scheming owner of a traveling carnival asks a drifter to kill his snake charmer wife. Armand Assante, Norman Reedus. (1:35) —Thurs./Early Fri. 2:05 AM (SHO)

Two Much (U.S.-Spanish; 1996)

PG-13: SL, SS. A conniving art dealer poses as his twin brother to woo a gangster's ex-wife and her sister. Art/Bart: Antonio Banderas. (2:00 ★) —Thurs. 7:30 AM (HBO)

Underworld (U.S.-German-Hungarian-British; 2003) R: V, SL. Toothless fantasy about a centuries-old war between vampires and were-wolves. Highly stylized but derivative. Kate Beckinsale, Scott Speedman. (2:05 ★★) —Mon./Early Tues. 4:10 AM (HBO)

A Walk in the Clouds (1995)

PG-13: SS, V. Tearjerker about a GI (Keanu Reeves) who poses as the husband of a pregnant student (Aitana Sanchez-Gijon) for the sake of her family. (1:45 ★★) —Fri. 7:15 AM (HBO)

We're No Angels (1989) PG-13: V, SL, N.

Robert De Niro and Sean Penn as escaped convicts masquerading as monks. Demi Moore. (1:50 ★★) —Wed. 1:30 PM (HBO)

The Whole Ten Yards (2004)

PG-13: SS, V, SL. When his wife is kidnapped, a jittery dentist (Matthew Perry) seeks help from a hit man (Bruce Willis). Unfunny sequel to "The Whole Nine Yards." Willis's daughter Tallulah Belle has a bit part as a Buttercup Scout. (1:40 ★) —Thurs. 10:30 AM, 5:45 PM (HBO)

William Shakespeare's 'Romeo & Juliet' (1996) PG-13: V, SS. The

Bard gets a '90s makeover in this imaginative rendition of the ill-fated romance between the star-crossed lovers (Leonardo DiCaprio, Claire Danes). (2:00 ★★) —Sun. 12 noon, Fri. 11 AM (HBO)

Win a Date with Tad Hamilton!

(2004) PG-13: SS, SL, AT. After winning a date with a movie star (Josh Duhamel), a clerk (Kate Bosworth) discovers that both the actor and a co-worker are vying for her affection. Witty and well-acted. (1:40 ★★★) —Mon. 7:30 AM, Fri. 9 AM, 4:30 PM (HBO)

Wrongfully Accused (1998)

PG-13: SL, AT. Leslie Nielsen stars in a spoof of "The Fugitive" and other movies, playing a bumbling violinist who's trying to clear himself of a murder charge. Richard Crenna, Kelly LeBrock. Dr. Fridley: Sandra Bernhard. Goodhue: Michael York. (1:30 ★) —Wed. 4:30 PM (HBO)

Year of the Bull (2003) NR

What "Hoop Dreams" did for two high-school basketball stars, this sports documentary does for Taurean Charles, a blue-chip football recruit followed during his senior year at Miami Northwestern High School. (1:30) —Wed. 12:45 PM (SHO)
